

SIP WINE

You are reading this because you love wine. Know why you love wine? The Greeks. (And because it makes the soul-crushing trials of life bearable.) See, 3000 years ago there were folks bumbling around the Mediterranean making dumpster fire wine. The Greeks saw this and said, "Hold my ouzo" and then changed the world. Everything we know and love about making and drinking wine was invented by Greeks. Seriously. This is not a "My Big Fat Greek Wedding" thing where Greeks SAY they invented everything but did not, they really did. Vineyard management? Greeks. Deciding on what grapes were grown where? Greeks. Using special vessels to drink certain wines out of? Greeks. The concept of the wine tasting? Greeks. The sommelier? Yes, the weirdo writing this has a job because of Greeks. Nobody is perfect. The Greeks invented all of it. So, when you drink wine here you are drinking history. A history of joy, reflection, and camaraderie. A history that continues in the wines made by the gifted producers on this list. So, grab a glass, pick a wine, thank a Greek, and drink. Yiamas.

BY THE BOTTLE

ROSE ORANGE BUBBLY

προτοκαλί κρασί
αφρώδες κρασί

Domaine Spiropoulos 'Ode Panos' Brut, Mantinia, Peloponnese 2017
Stone fruits and flowers. Nectar of the gods.

58

Tselepos 'Amalia' Brut, Nemea, Peloponnese 2013
Better than Veuve. (For real, though.)

90

Glinavos 'Zitsa Brut,' Zitsa, Epirus 2015
The first Greek sparkling wine is still the best.

64

Tselepos 'Amalia' Brut Roze, Nemea, Peloponnese NV
Roze all day! Berries and herbs. Fresh, vibrant, pink.

60

Roditis / Moschatela / Vostilidi / Muscat, Sclavos 'Alchymiste,' Kefalonia 2019
Dip your toes in the orange wine pool with this staff fave. Aromatic and affable.

38

Muscat of Alexandria, Garalis 'Terra Ambera,' Lemnos 2018
Like standing in a citrus grove on a summer afternoon. Also, you're in love.

60

Moschofilero, Troupis, '3/6/17,' Peloponnese, 1LT 2019
It's unofficial name is on the side of the bottle. If you don't read Greek, ask a staff member.

57

Sideritis, Parparoussis, 'Petite Fleur,' Achaia 2019
Recommended by Dr. Fauci to cure CDS. Crappy Day Syndrome.
